

Richard H. Zeschke

FINE ARTS & ANTIQUITIES

3601 CROSSINGS DRIVE, SUITE A PRESCOTT, ARIZONA 86305

TELEPHONE: (928) 445-9700 FAX: (928) 445-4877

This is to certify that I acted as consultant and advisor to , in his purchase of multiple items of antique English silver from Judge Frank King and Mrs. Margaret King of Corning, New York, during the second half of the 1970's through the early 1980's.

The prices paid for these antique silver objects were as follows:

Salver, 5 1/2", marked LH in diamond	$600
Salver, 6", marked IC in square	600
Salver, 5 3/4", marked A in circle	600
Salver, 6 3/4", marked HM	600
Salver, 7 1/2", marked RR	700
Salver, 8", marked EF	800
Salver, 11", marked TH/TC	1200
Card tray, 6 3/4", marked RE/TB, Evans & Barnard, 1809	500
Salt, round, glass-lined	250
Pair boat-shaped salts, glass-lined	400
Sugar bowl, glass-lined	500
Nine 18 th century taper sticks	6400
Snuffer tray and snuffer	600
Candle holder with 11" handle	600
Columnar candlestick, 8", marked EC in square	450
Silver cup, 4"	550
Candle cup, 3 1/2", marked GA in rectangle	1200
Candle cup, 3", marked TS/TB	1200
Candle cup, 4 1/4", marked TS, conjoined	1700
Cup with handles, 5", marked SW in rectangle	1500
Cup with handles, 5", marked FW in rectangle, with later inscription	1400
Strawberry bowl, with handles, Queen Anne, 8 1/4", marked SL	6000
Tankard, marked M in square	3000
Coffee pot, 10 1/4", replaced wooden handle	3200
Coffee pot, 10", minor repair	3300

Richard H. Zeschke

FINE ARTS & ANTIQUITIES

3601 CROSSINGS DRIVE, SUITE A PRESCOTT, ARIZONA 86305

TELEPHONE: (928) 445-9700 FAX: (928) 445-4877

2.

Coffee pot, 9 1/4", marked FW in rectangle	2800
Tankard, dome-top, 8 1/2", marked FC in rectangle	3000
Set of teaspoons, in wooden case	600
Set of teaspoons	600
Serving spoon, 14"	400
Punch ladle with coin bowl, 13"	400
Set of twelve 18 th century teaspoons	350
Trefid spoon, Exeter	500
Two dognose spoons	500
Forward-tipped spoon, inscribed B/CA/AD	400
Gilt trefid spoon	900
Trefid spoon, marked EC in rectangle	700
Trefid spoon, marked S/D in rectangle	1100
Pair late 18 th century back-tipped spoons	200
Maidenhead spoon	3000

Total cost of this antique English silver: $ 53,300

Recently, behalf of [REDACTED] I traded these antique silver objects (along with $10,700 in cash from [REDACTED] his checks #14204 and #14284) for three antique objects:

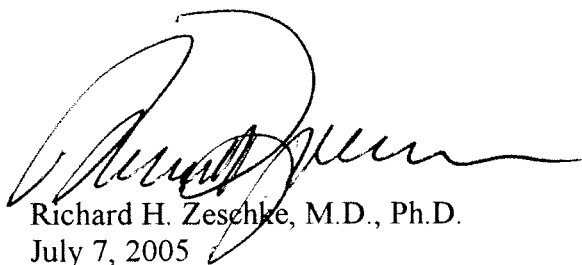

accession number 9336, militia fusil, revolutionary war period

accession number 9337, pair, officer's pistols, revolutionary war period accession number 9338, Kentucky rifle by Jacob Metzger of Maryland.

Thus the total cost paid by [REDACTED] for these three antique objects was $ 64,000.

I certify the above to be accurate.

Richard H. Zeschke, M.D., Ph.D.
July 7, 2005

U.S. Army Weapons-1784-1791

by

WILLIAM H. GUTHMAN

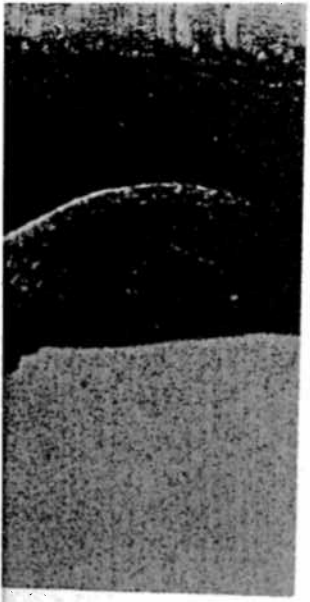

A PUBLICATION OF
THE AMERICAN SOCIETY OF ARMS COLLECTORS

1975

Two muskets of the period of the Revolution each of which have a patriotic motif that might have been added during the Federal Period. Figure 13A shows the escutcheon of an officer's fusil marked, in three lines, 'INDE PEN DENCE'.

13A

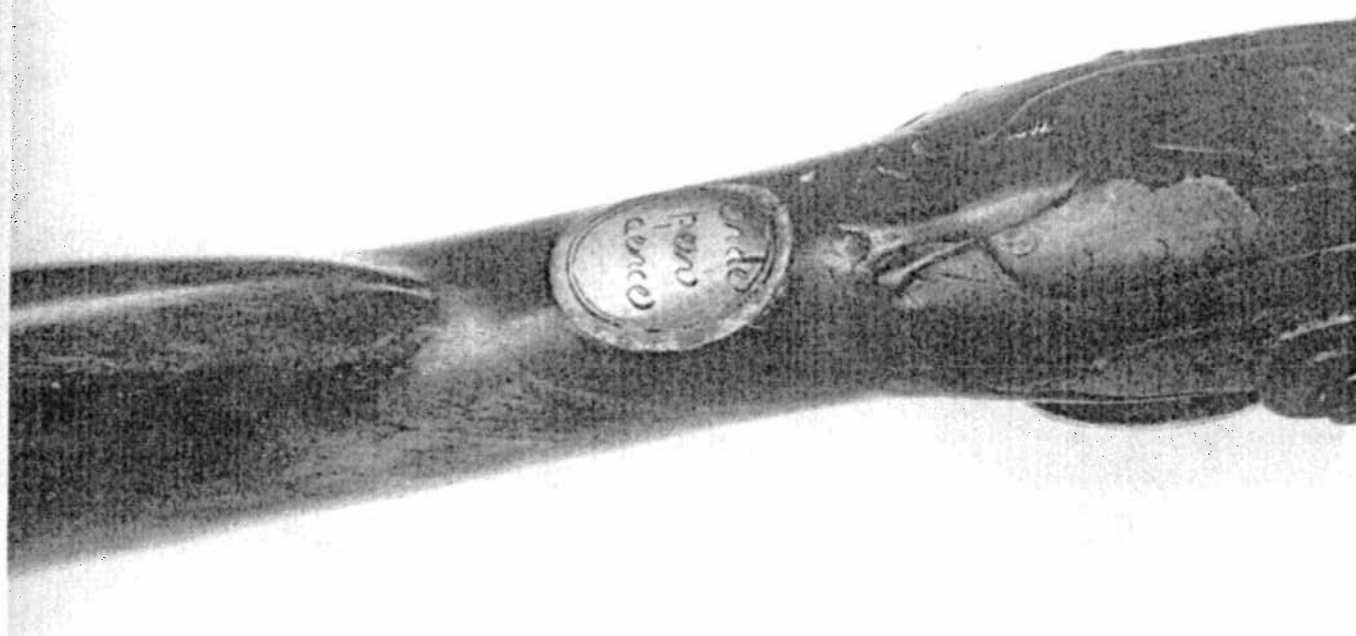

13B

Two muskets of the period of the Revolution each of which have a patriotic motif that might have been added during the Federal Period. Figure 13A shows the escutcheon of an officer's fusil marked, in three lines, 'INDE PEN DENCE'.

Figure 13B shows the trigger guard finial of another officer's fusil. The finial, in the shape of a Federal eagle, was undoubtedly added later, as indicated by the difference in the color of the brass, and the poor quality of the inletting. The addition was made during the period of use of the weapon, which was made by Ambrose Peck of Swansea, Massachusetts.

Guthman Collection

13A

13B

Two muskets of the period of the Revolution each of which have a patriotic motif that might have been added during the Federal Period. Figure 13A shows the escutcheon of an officer's fusil marked, in three lines, 'INDE PEN DENCE'.

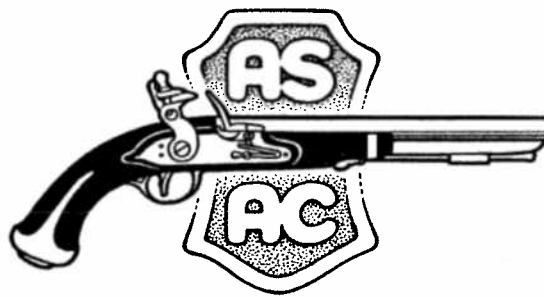

Figure 13B shows the trigger guard finial of another officer's fusil. The finial, in the shape of a Federal eagle, was undoubtedly added later, as indicated by the difference in the color of the brass, and the poor quality of the inletting. The addition was made during the period of use of the weapon, which was made by Ambrose Peck of Swansea, Massachusetts.

Guthman Collection

U.S. Army Weapons-1784-1791

by

WILLIAM H. GUTHMAN

A PUBLICATION OF
THE AMERICAN SOCIETY OF ARMS COLLECTORS

1975

Two muskets of the period of the Revolution each of which have a patriotic motif that might have been added during the Federal Period. Figure 13A shows the escutcheon of an officer's fusil marked, in three lines, 'INDE PEN DENCE'.

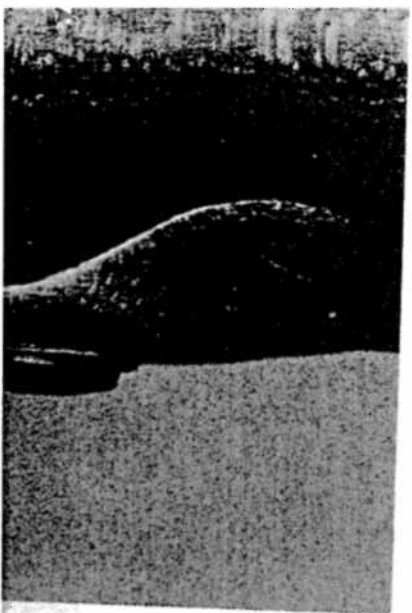

Figure 13B shows the trigger guard finial of another officer's fusil. The finial, in the shape of a Federal eagle, was added during the Federal Period.

13A

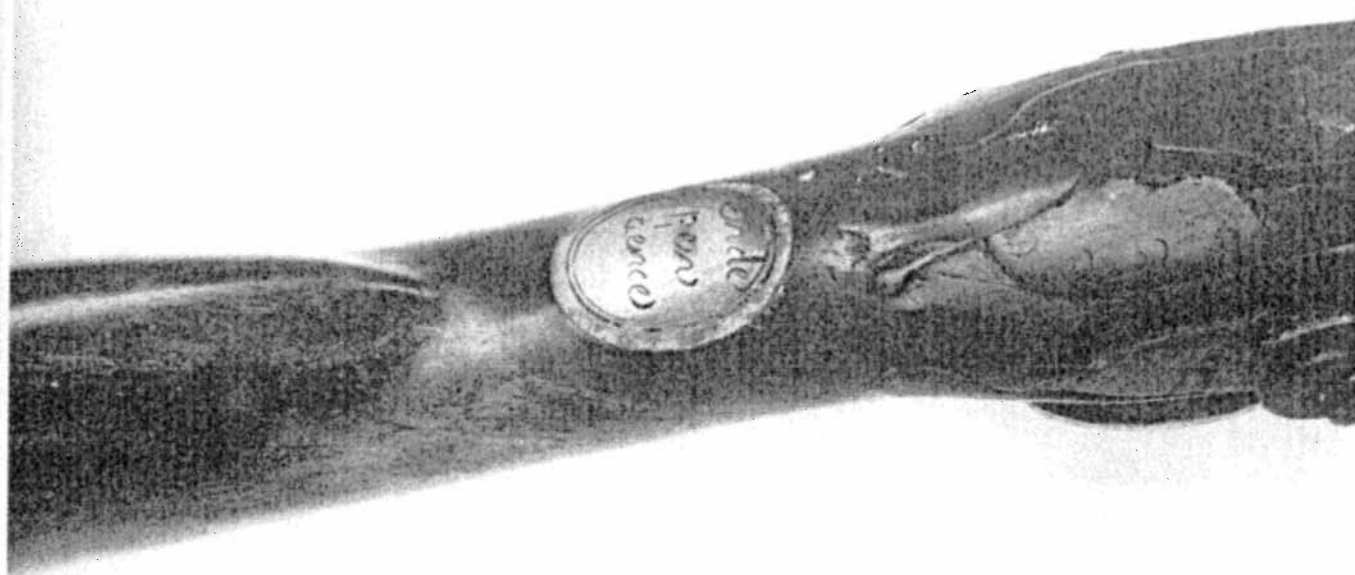

13B

Two muskets of the period of the Revolution each of which have a patriotic motif that might have been added during the Federal Period. Figure 13A shows the escutcheon of an officer's fusil marked, in three lines, 'INDE PEN DENCE'.

Figure 13B shows the trigger guard finial of another officer's fusil. The finial, in the shape of a Federal eagle, was undoubtedly added later, as indicated by the difference in the color of the brass, and the poor quality of the inletting. The addition was made during the period of use of the weapon, which was made by Ambrose Peck of Swansea, Massachusetts.

Guthman Collection

13A

Two muskets of the period of the Revolution each of which have a patriotic motif that might have been added during the Federal Period. Figure 13A shows the escutcheon of an officer's fusil marked, in three lines, 'INDE PEN DENCE'.

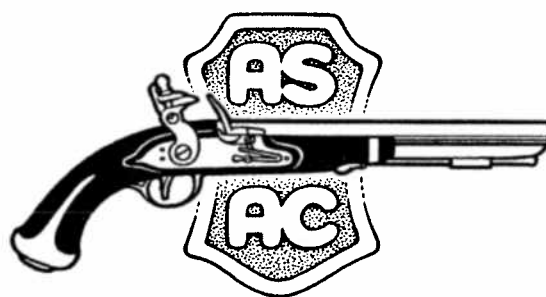

Figure 13B shows the trigger guard finial of another officer's fusil. The finial, in the shape of a Federal eagle, was undoubtedly added later, as indicated by the difference in the color of the brass, and the poor quality of the inletting. The addition was made during the period of use of the weapon, which was made by Ambrose Peck of Swansea, Massachusetts.

Guthman Collection

U.S. Army Weapons-1784-1791

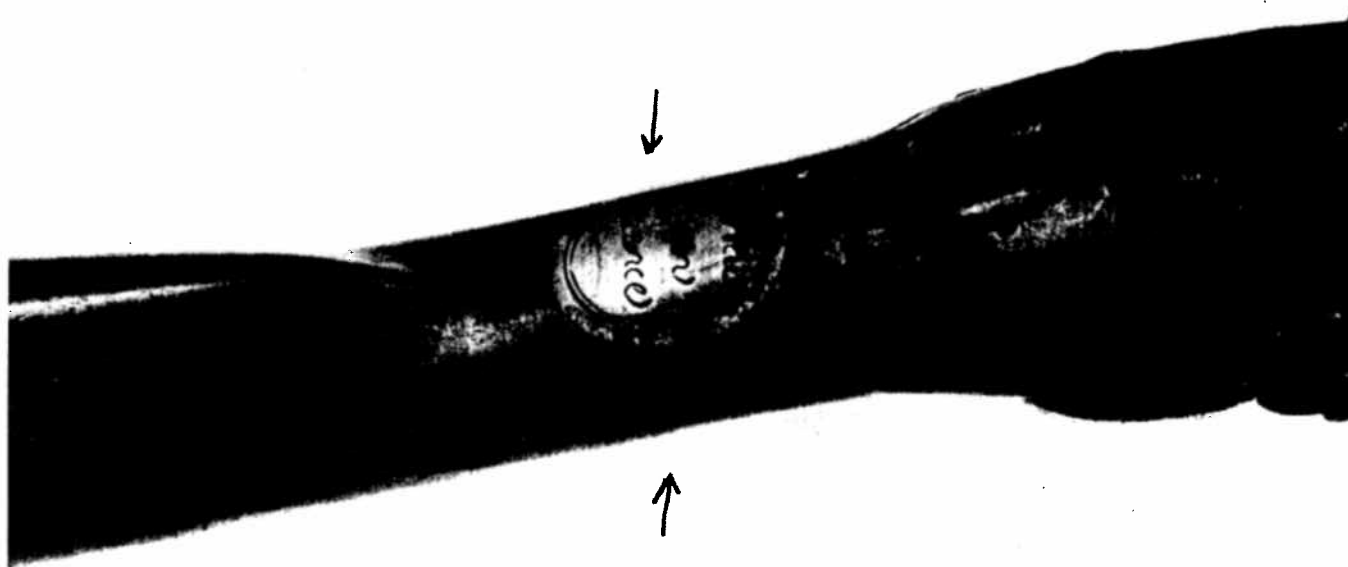

by

WILLIAM H. GUTHMAN

A PUBLICATION OF
THE AMERICAN SOCIETY OF ARMS COLLECTORS

1975

13A

13B

Two muskets of the period of the Revolution each of which have a patriotic motif that might have been added during the Federal Period. Figure 13A shows the escutcheon of an officer's fusil marked, in three lines, 'INDE PEN DENCE'.

Figure 13B shows the trigger guard finial of another officer's fusil. The finial, in the shape of a Federal eagle, was undoubtedly added later, as indicated by the difference in the color of the brass, and the poor quality of the inletting. The addition was made during the period of use of the weapon, which was made by Ambrose Peck of Swansea, Massachusetts.

Guthman Collection

U.S. Army Weapons-1784-1791

by

WILLIAM H. GUTHMAN

A PUBLICATION OF
THE AMERICAN SOCIETY OF ARMS COLLECTORS

1975

- BALLARD, JOHN K., Grayling, Michigan. Patent #337,916, March 16, 1886, gun barrels.
- BALLARD, JORDAN, Red Rock, Iowa, 1865d.
- BALLARD, T.M., Montezuma, Iowa, 1889d-1897d.
- BALLARD, WILLIAM, Pleasantville, Iowa, 1865d.
- BALLINGER, J.H., Clayton, West Virginia, 1884d.
- BALLS, C., Sharpsburg, Kentucky, 1854-1860. Percussion 1/2 stock rifle.
- BALLS, R.R., (1836-1863), Sonoma, California, 1856-1863. (Shelton)
- BALLWEG, AMBROSE, (1830-), Indianapolis, Indiana, 1857-1885. Percussion fullstock. (Lindert)
- BALSER, A.L. & CO., Cincinnati, Ohio, 1857-1859.
- BALSLEY, CHRISTIAN, Cumberland Co., Pennsylvania, 1781-1793. (Bowers)
- BALSLEY, T., Connellsville, Pennsylvania. Percussion 1/2 stock.
- BALTIMORE ARMS CO., Baltimore, Maryland, 1895-1902. Hammerless shotguns. (Hartzler)
- BALTZOR & ESLINGER, Virgil City, Missouri, 1893d.
- BAMES, S., unlocated. Percussion fullstock.
- BANCROFT, CHARLES F., Baltimore, Maryland, 1882-1886d. (Hartzler)
- BANDLE GUN CO., Cincinnati, Ohio, 1865-1902. Made parlor guns under J.C. Bandle's patent. P.C. Bandle, J.C. Bandle (son of P.C.) and, after 1885, Al Bandle (son of J.C.). (Hutslar)
- BANDLE, AL, Cincinnati, Ohio, 1887-1888. Son of J.C. (Hutslar)
- BANDLE, JACOB CHARLES, (-1899), Cincinnati, Ohio. Patent #117,367, July 25, 1871, parlor gun with E.P. Christner. Percussion, cartridge and air guns produced by Bandle Arms Co. (Hutslar)
- BANDLE, P.C., Cincinnati, Ohio, 1865d-1866d. (Hutslar)
- BANG, suicide special.
- BANG-UP, suicide special by Harrington & Richardson.
- BANGASSER & LOBERT, Buffalo, New York, 1850c.
- BANKS, , Harper's Ferry, Virginia. Invented priming magazine for Hall's rifle, 1828.
- BANKS, JOHN, Bushkill, Pennsylvania, 1835t. (KRA II-3)
- BANKS, URI, Hebron, Connecticut, 1775. Committee of Safety locks.
- BANNACKER, GEORGE, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, 1800c. (Kauffman)
- BANNEN, MICHAEL, (1789-), Darke County, Ohio, 1850c. (Hutslar)
- BANNERMAN, F., New York, New York, 1866-1970. Dealers, also made Spencer pump shotguns.
- BANNISTER, GEORGE W., Boston, Massachusetts 1880d-1884d.
- BANNON, WILLIAM, Fredricksburg, Virginia, 1873-1875.
- BANTA, JACOB J., Jersey City, New Jersey. Patent #16,860, March 17, 1857, loading rod with John Foster.
- BARBA, G., Houston, Texas, 1890d-1899d. With son, Angelo, 1892-1899.
- BARBER, D.L., Wallingford, Connecticut, 1887d-1888d.
- BARBER, H.B., Scott, New York, 1870d. Patent #101,586, April 5, 1870, sight.
- BARBER, JOHN M., Canaan, New Hampshire, 1872-1879. Percussion 1/2 stock.
- BARBER, JOSEPH, Bridesburg, Pennsylvania. Patent #23,224, March 15, 1859, breechloading firearm with P.C. Reinfried.
- BARBER, L. & CO., Syracuse, New York, 1873-1875.
- BARBER & LEFEVER, Syracuse, New York, 1875d-1876d. 45/70 tip up rifle. Successor to L. Barber & Co. (Swinney)
- BARBER, ROYAL F., Palmyra, Michigan, 1863d.
- BARBER, SAMUEL, Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, 1800c. (Kauffman)
- BARBER, WALLACE, Waterloo, Iowa, 1880d-1895d.
- BARBERET, J.I., (1792-), Edenton, North Carolina, 1820, New Orleans, Louisiana, 1821d.
- BARBERET, THEON, New Orleans, Louisiana, 1822d-1823d.
- BARBEY, JULIUS, Greenville, Illinois, 1893d.
- BARBOUR, J.M., Rushville, Indiana, 1860d.
- BARCLAY, J., New York, New York, percussion 1/2 stock.
- BARD, JOHN, (-1894), Barzil, Indiana, 1860-1894. Percussion 1/2 stock. (Lindert)
- BARDER, WILLIAM, Spring Hope, Pennsylvania, 1882d.
- BARE, ALEXANDER, Bellmont, Illinois, 1888d-1895d.
- BARENT, COVERT, New Amsterdam, New York, 1646. (Satterlee & Gluckman)
- BARGDOLL, JOEL, Chillicothe, Missouri, 1850c-1860d.
- BARGDOLL, LOUIS, Chillicothe, Missouri, 1889d-1898d. Son of Joel Bargdoll.
- BARGER, FREDERICK N., (1813-), Champaign Co., Ohio, 1836, Urbana, Ohio, 1881. Percussion fullstock dated 1870. (Hutslar)
- BARIE, WILLIAM, Red Cliffe, Pennsylvania. 1887d-1890d.
- BARKER, C.M., Albion, Michigan. Patent #404,779, June 4, 1889, breechloading firearm, with William Dicer.
- BARKER, CYRUS, (1787-1870), Providence, Rhode Island. Converted fullstock.
- BARKER, JOHN G., Walnut Valley, Tennessee, 1860d.
- BARKER, JOSEPH, New Orleans, Louisiana, 1859d-1870d. Salt Lake City, Utah, 1878d-1886d.
- BARKER, MILAN S., Eugene, Oregon, 1889d-1906d. Patent #509,716, November 28, 1893, trap gun.
- BARKER, T. Trade name of H & D Folsom on shotguns by Crescent and imported, also Thomas Barker. (AR 2-65)
- BARKHIMER, see Birkhimer.
- BARKHOLDER, JACOB, Albany, Oregon, 1867d.
- BARKLEY, J.J., Port Andrew, Wisconsin, 1857d.
- BARKLEY, W.C., Lichfield, Illinois, 1893d.
- BARKMAN, JOE, (-1907), Browstown, Indiana, 1875-1907. Percussion 1/2 stock rifle signed JB in script. (Lindert)

A Source Book

FRANK M. SELLERS

A comprehensive listing of the American gun maker, patentee, gunsmith and entrepreneur

The Gun Room Press
Highland Park, N.J. 08904
1983

U.S. Army Weapons-1784-1791

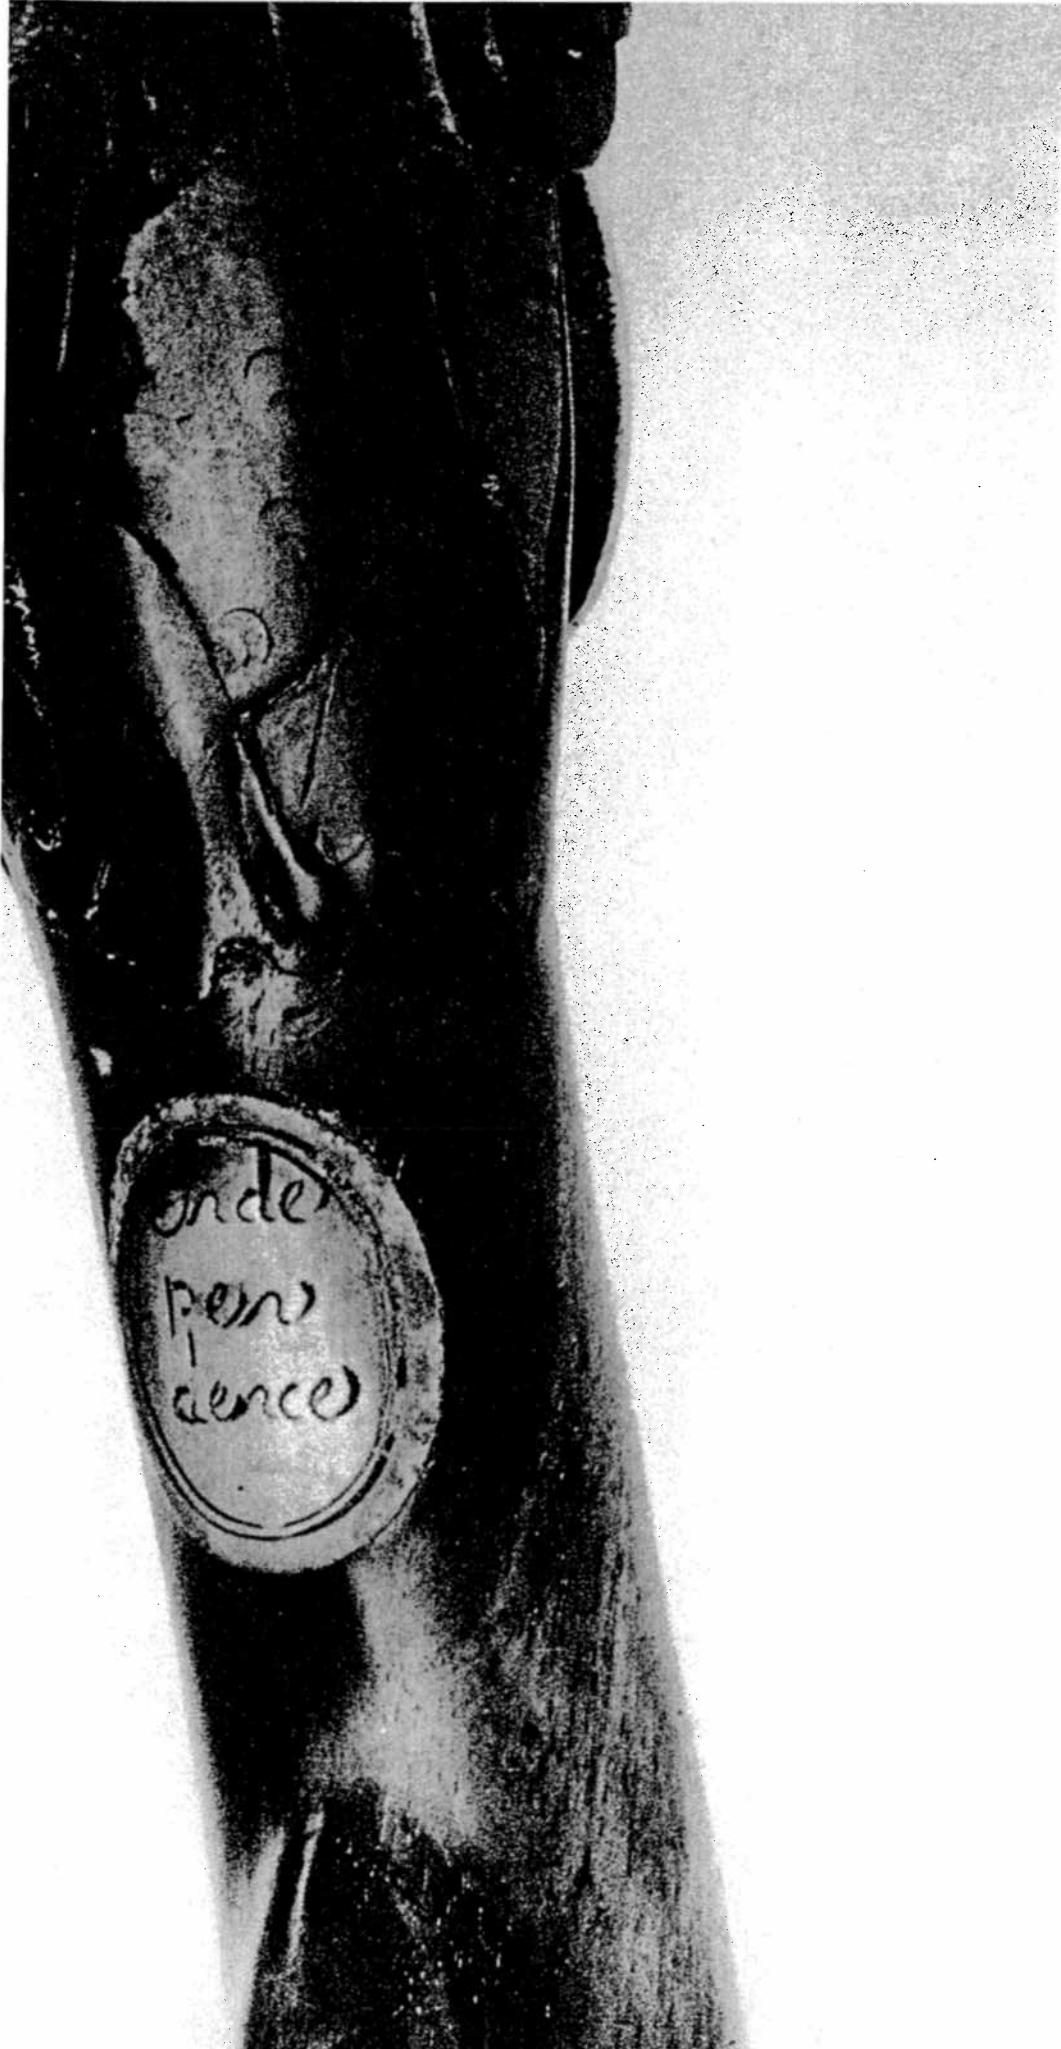

by

WILLIAM H. GUTHMAN

A PUBLICATION OF
THE AMERICAN SOCIETY OF ARMS COLLECTORS

1975

Two muskets of the period of the Revolution each of which have a patriotic motif that might have been added during the Federal Period. Figure 13A shows the escutcheon of an officer's fusil marked, in three lines, 'INDE PEN DENCE'.

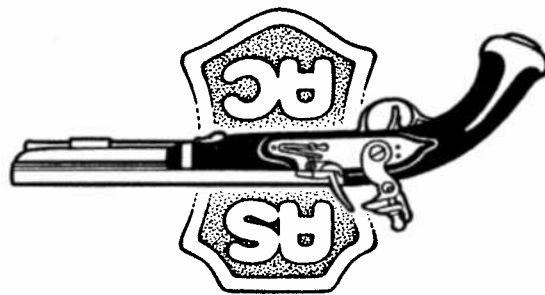

Figure 13B shows the trigger guard finial of another officer's

U.S. Army Weapons-1784-1791

by

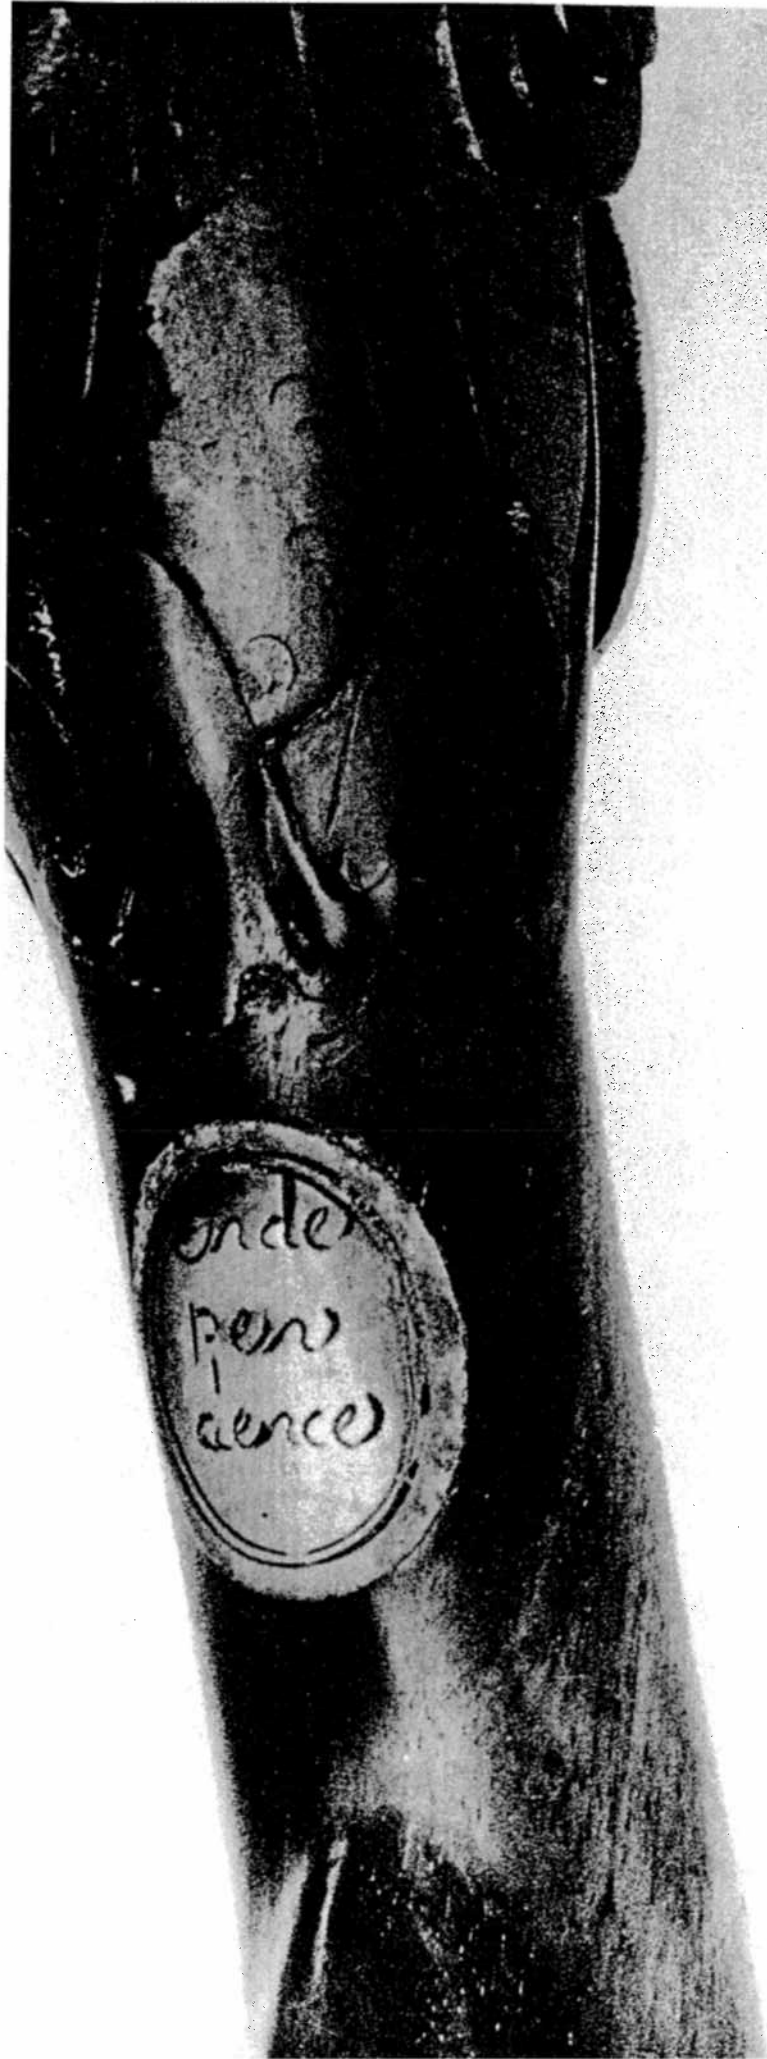

WILLIAM H. GUTHMAN

A PUBLICATION OF

THE AMERICAN SOCIETY OF ARMS COLLECTORS

1975

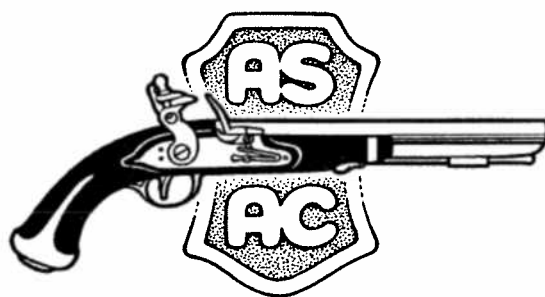

Two muskets of the period of the Revolution each of which have a patriotic motif that might have been added during the Federal Period. Figure 13A shows the escutcheon of an officer's fusil marked, in three lines, 'INDE PEN DENCE'.

Figure 13B shows the trigger guard finial of another of these muskets.

U.S. Army Weapons-1784-1791

by

WILLIAM H. GUTHMAN

A PUBLICATION OF
THE AMERICAN SOCIETY OF ARMS COLLECTORS

1975

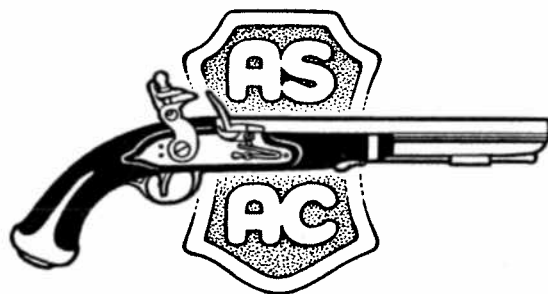

Two muskets of the period of the Revolution each of which have a patriotic motif that might have been added during the Federal Period. Figure 13A shows the escutcheon of an officer's fusil marked, in three lines, 'INDE PEN DENCE'.

U.S. Army Weapons-1784-1791

by

WILLIAM H. GUTHMAN

A PUBLICATION OF
THE AMERICAN SOCIETY OF ARMS COLLECTORS

1975

Two muskets of the period of the Revolution each of which have a patriotic motif that might have been added during the Federal Period. Figure 13A shows the escutcheon of an officer's fusil marked, in three lines, 'INDE PEN DENCE'.

Figure 13B shows the trigger guard of a musket of the same period.

13A

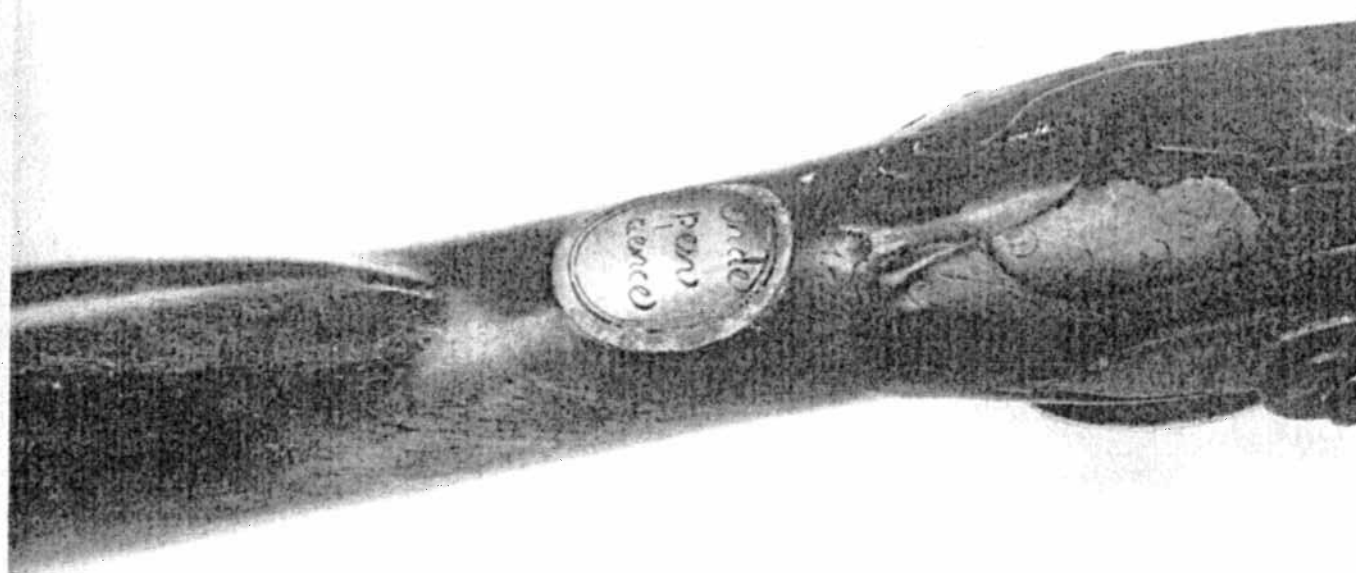

13B

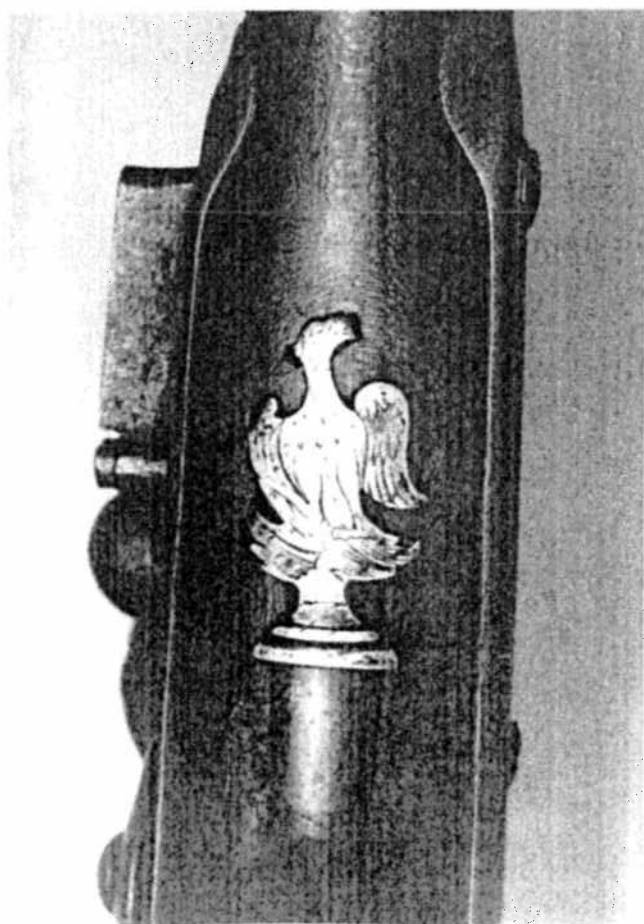

Two muskets of the period of the Revolution each of which have a patriotic motif that might have been added during the Federal Period. Figure 13A shows the escutcheon of an officer's fusil marked, in three lines, 'INDE PEN DENCE'.

Figure 13B shows the trigger guard finial of another officer's fusil. The finial, in the shape of a Federal eagle, was undoubtedly added later, as indicated by the difference in the color of the brass, and the poor quality of the inletting. The addition was made during the period of use of the weapon, which was made by Ambrose Peck of Swansea, Massachusetts.

Guthman Collection

13A

Two muskets of the period of the Revolution each of which have a patriotic motif that might have been added during the Federal Period. Figure 13A shows the escutcheon of an officer's fusil marked, in three lines, 'INDE PEN DENCE'.

Figure 13B shows the trigger guard finial of another officer's fusil. The finial, in the shape of a Federal eagle, was undoubtedly added later, as indicated by the difference in the color of the brass, and the poor quality of the inletting. The addition was made during the period of use of the weapon, which was made by Ambrose Peck of Swansea, Massachusetts.

Guthman Collection

U.S. Army Weapons-1784-1791

by

WILLIAM H. GUTHMAN

A PUBLICATION OF
THE AMERICAN SOCIETY OF ARMS COLLECTORS

1975