MAKE OATH AND SAY THAT:

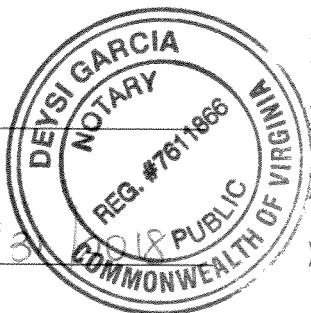

1. I found the 'German Codebook Cover #1905' in 1962 while I was living in Berlin, Germany as a dependent of my father, who was stationed there as part of the USAF. I was 12 years old at the time and was playing in the Grunewald and came across a 'foxhole' dug next to a large tree stump. After climbing down into it, I noticed a ledge near the back, up underneath the tree roots and found what appeared to be a dark green piece of tarp wrapped around something heavy. I pulled it out from underneath the dirt and leaves and believed it was some sort of German notebook used during WWII. I took it home and kept it next to my stamp collections and it has remained in my possession ever since that day.
2. The attached images are of the codebook cover, as well as a page from my Passport that substantiates my being in Berlin, Germany from 1961-1964.
