COSMI SHOTGUN TECHNICAL DESCRIPTION

Cosmi has a 100 years experience in semiautomatic shotguns that matches a design unique and a excellent quality of mechanics and materials.

When you look at a Cosmi shotgun, its first peculiarity is the original opening. This feature allows: to charge the shotgun; to use the stock as magazine; the excellent balancing; to have a total safety; to check easily the mechanism and clean it quickly.

The shotgun operation is based on the barrel long recoil.

To charge, the shotgun has to be opened as a side-by-side. The first cartridge is introduced in the barrel, freeing the obturator in barrel by an inside lever, afterwards the other cartridges are introduced in the magazine.

When shooting, the barrel moves back and uses the energy of the shot to expel the empty cartridge and charge the new one. A system of shock absorbers and the recoil spring makes the shooter feels no recoil. The recoil spring is settled under the barrel, in the forend.

The cartridge magazine is settled inside the stock. This is a second very important peculiarity of Cosmi shotguns: use the stock as magazine allows to have a total capacity of 8 cartridges and ensures the shotgun perfect balance. According to the European laws, 2 different gun versions are available: 3 and 8 shots (the 8 shots version has included a removable system to stop the capacity of magazine to 3 cartridges in total).

Since 1920, Cosmi has been offering an artisan production which guarantees a fine finishing and an insuperable quality. Each piece that compose each Cosmi shotgun is entirely hand made in Cosmi factory, in Italy. The 100% handicraft production allows the complete customization of each shotgun, with barrel, choke, stock, engraving, having the characteristics that each customer prefers.

Barrels are available with length and chokes (fix of multichokes) preferred by the customer, with or without rib. All Cosmi barrels are made turning the full piece of metal. The customer can choose between 3 different barrel versions, in 3 different qualities of Boheler steel: Boheler Antinit; Boheler Inox and a special aeronautic steel. The customer has also the opportunity to change the barrel in a very easy way. All Cosmi barrels are tested for steel cartridges.

Cosmi mechanism is very particular. Composed with a series of pieces, matched each other with a slot system (that means no screws), each piece is dug from the full piece of 16 nickel-chrome steel. The mechanism is always well visible thanks to the original opening system.

The stocks of Cosmi shotguns are made in extra quality walnut root wood from Caucasus, they are fitted to the personal body measurement of the customer.

Since 1990, Cosmi Americo & figlio s.n.c. increased the variety of shotguns. To the Standard Steel version has been added a Light Alloy version and a Titanium version that can save even 300 grams of weight.

Cosmi shotguns are available in 70 chamber or 76 magnum chamber, in the following gauges: 12; 16; 20.

The pleasure to have an extra fine shotgun, is the pleasure to find in it all the pleasant elements that make it special. For this reason Cosmi gives the opportunity to enrich the shotgun with a rich variety of fine hand made engravings. Each engraving is a masterpiece carried out either by prestigious Italian and Belgian artists, for this reason we give the opportunity to our customers to choose the one that they prefer in our catalog, to modify it with a different decoration or subjects, or realize a personal drawing or idea.
